

Human Defence Systems White Blood Cells

Below are diagrams showing the three different ways that white blood cells fight pathogens. Your task is to correctly name each diagram, and then write in the boxes your own words, what is happening at each stage.

What process is this?

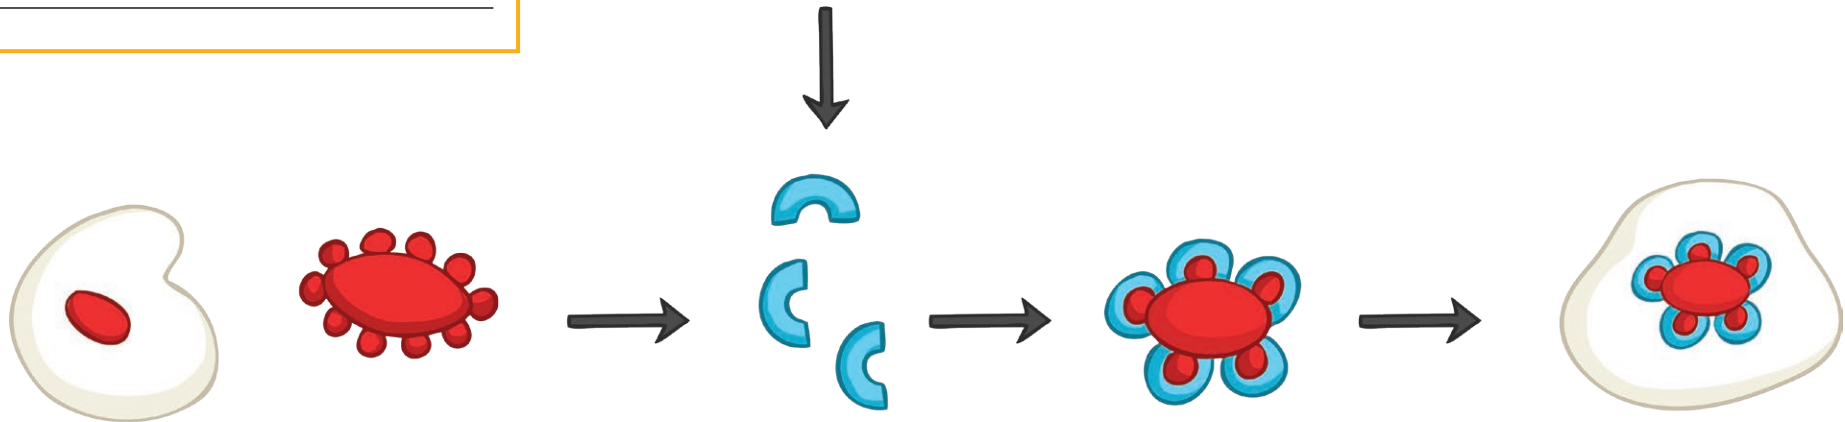

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What process is this?

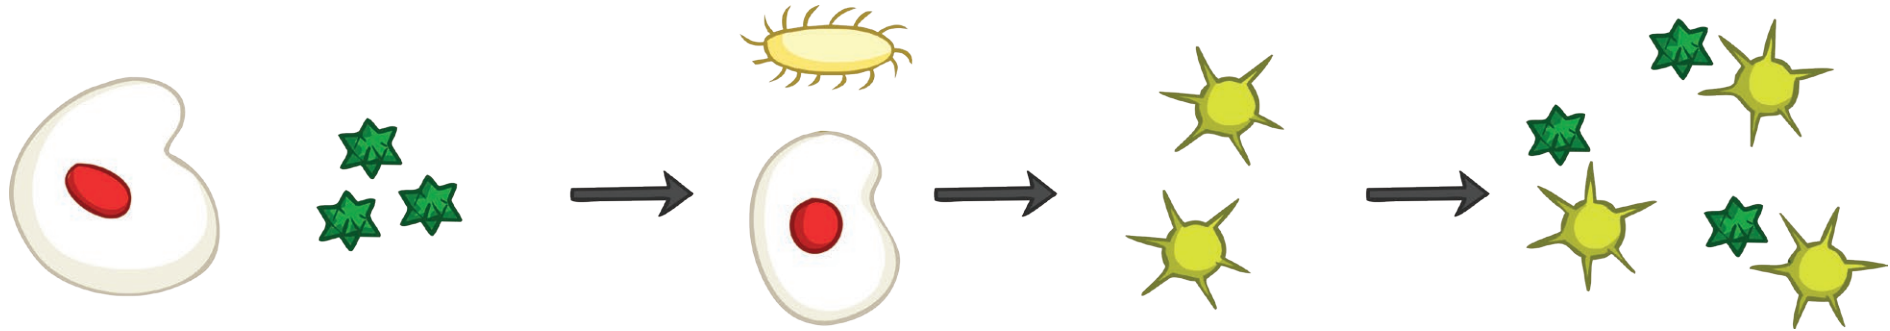

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What process is this?

What is happening here?

What is happening here?

What is happening here?
